

Edgewood College Rotaract Club

Benefits of Membership

Set yourself apart from the pack

Rotaract is not your average extracurricular group. Not just anyone can join; we have an application process, attendance requirements and membership dues. When employers/grad schools see “Rotaract” on your resumé, they can be sure that you have drive and qualifications above and beyond those of your peers. Not only will you be members of an extraordinary club, but you will also be part of a group based on service to the greater community. You will be known to possess the qualities of a great leader, teammate, and innovator.

Network like never before

Through a direct partnership with Rotary International and Rotary Club of Madison Wisconsin, membership will provide a direct channel to meet with over 500 local business leaders. You will also be joining a brotherhood of 1.2 million members worldwide who are as dedicated to making a difference in the world as you are. Membership in Rotaract will provide social, personal, and professional benefits and connections that will exist long after your tenure in Rotaract and into your possible future membership in Rotary International.

Volunteer your time; get back more than you give

As a service based organization, membership in Rotaract will give you opportunities to make a difference in the world around you. By forming partnerships with at least one local and at least one international charity/non-profit, we will strive to achieve visible success in fields ranging from fighting blindness in India and Kenya to helping cancer patients here at home. The sky is really the limit when it comes to our volunteer activities, but one thing is certain: when a group of dedicated, talented, and driven students strive to help others, we will definitely be getting back more than we put in.

Exclusive activities

Many Rotaract activities, such as speakers and social gatherings with business leaders, will only be open to contributing and active Rotaract members. This means that if you are willing to put forth the time and effort to improve the world around you, you will be able to reap benefits that only others with the same commitment to Rotaract can share in.
